Restart at Lee

Lee College students who have financial holds up to $1,500 with Lee and who have not been enrolled in two or more semesters are encouraged to re-enroll under an initiative called Restart at Lee.

The main goal of Restart at Lee is to get Lee College students who have left because of a debt owed to the college, to return so that they can graduate with a credential. Upon completion of your credential, you are eligible to have your prior debt forgiven.

Eligible students must:

- not have been in the last two or more semesters;
- have financial holds of no more than $1,500;
- have a completed FAFSA or TASFA on file; and
- have the means to pay current charges

Students who agree to this contract and fulfill it will have their past-due balance forgiven upon completion of their credential.

The application submission does not guarantee acceptance into the Restart at Lee Program.

To apply for Restart at Lee you must complete and submit the application (PDF). If you are approved; the hold blocking registration is removed, and a note is placed in your student account.
