

Lee College announces new online real estate licensing programs

Lee College is now offering new, fully online Texas real estate licensing programs and continuing education courses (CEUs). Completion of the real estate programs prepares students for the Texas state licensing exams and enables them to begin their career as a real estate sales agent, broker, or home inspector.

Lee College is now offering new, fully online Texas real estate licensing programs and continuing education courses (CEU's). Completion of the real estate programs prepares students for the Texas state licensing exams and enables them to begin their careers as a real estate sales agents, brokers or home inspectors.

The real estate licensing programs are being offered through a partnership with The CE Shop, Inc., and will cover topics the state has deemed essential to practicing real estate in Texas. All programs are available entirely online in a self-paced format and taught by industry experts.

"We are excited to partner with The CE Shops to offer these trusted, high-quality real estate licensing programs," said Marsha Tuha, executive director of Lee College's Center for Workforce and Community Development. "Lee College is continually searching for the best, most efficient educational resources to benefit individuals in our community. Whether they are just starting out or making a career change, these new online programs will allow people to reach their career goals in a way that is convenient, relevant and affordable."

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, real estate brokers and sales agents' employment is projected to grow steadily between now and 2029. Individuals who register for the real estate programs through Lee College have the advantage of a local team dedicated to supporting them and answering any questions they may have through the completion of the programs.

In addition to courses for pre-licensed real estate agents and brokers, the new programs also offer convenient courses for current real estate agents and brokers to complete required continuing education courses (CEU's).

To register for one of the programs or learn more about course offerings, call 281.425.6241.

Along with the real estate programs, Lee College's Center for Workforce and Community Development offers a wide range of courses to fit students' individual needs and career goals. The center provides various noncredit programs, including face-to-face, hybrid and online courses for those striving for personal, professional and business success. For more information, call 281.425.6311 or visit our website <https://www.lee.edu/workforce>.